

Initiative featured at the RIAC’s Report developed to support countries’ efforts to mitigate Covid-19’s impact

Mobile App That Notifies Users Who Were in Contact with Covid-19 Patients in Ecuador

Hypelabs

Source: Roberto García, Research Coordinator, Catholic University of Santiago de Guayaquil (ACE Leader)

Hyperlabs, a tech-driven company based in Ecuador, developed a mobile app that helps contain Covid-19’s pandemic. This software solution shares official alerts from the government about the disease symptoms and treatment, and informs users about their likelihood of have been exposed to a Covid-19 infection, even without Internet connection.

Photo: Hypelabs, 2020

Additional information

<https://www.covidapp.org>
<https://twitter.com/hypelabstech/status/1245812905817149441>

@riacnetorg

/RIACnet/

www.riacnet.org

OAS

More rights
for more people